Selling Wall Paper

—o—

And selling it plentifully, too; but we are not selling it at cost. Nor are we selling it "way below cost" That is not what we are in business for; and, besides, we don't have to, in order to meet any competition in this market

—o—

We think we are selling all papers as low as anybody, and we know we are selling many papers less than everybody

—o—

We are willing to leave it to the decision of wall paper buyers, if we are not showing the largest, finest line of wall paper in this market.

Corner Hennepin-ave and Main-st.

It Is Not a Hen Hospital.

A number of those beautiful windows of various colored glass, saved from the old Methodist church, now nearly a thing of the past, were purchased by Charles Furley, of Prairieville, for the purpose of placing them in the front of a hencoop he is now constructing. This is not a revival of the blue glass craze, nor does it appear that Charlie believes that the roosters and hens will enjoy much better health than heretofore; nor does he anticipate that the chickens hatched therein will be of the yellow-legged variety, so toothsome to the preachers; he simply wants these beautiful gothic cathedral windows to ornament his hen house It is not presumed, furthermore, that any particular superstition can be attached to the remnants of a torn down church that will especially aid in incubating chickens, for the days of auguration died out soon after Caius Marius. They are all lay members (the Furleys, not the hens) of the church, and therefore simply desire to have the usual results from a well lighted hencoop that any good christian people may hope for. These improvements out in Prairieville THE TELEGRAPH is pleased to record. Too much of a puff for a chicken coop, did you say? Well, we shall expect a few eggs laid upon our table for paas.

Death of C. H. Fargo.

A dispatch from Florida states that C. H Fargo died there last evening of enlargement of the liver. He had been there some time hoping to regain his health but pneumonia together with malaria set in and he was unable to rally from the attack

—Dr. G. W. I. Brown, who was quite sick with la grippe yesterday, remains about the same, though there is a little improvement in his condition.

—Barnes & Summers' Players produced "The Ranch King" at the Opera House last evening. The audience though small in numbers, was quite enthusiastic, and the work of the principals was warmly applauded.

—It is or was a mooted question whether or not Jim Wede was killed with a billiard cue at Sterling Saturday night. First came a dispatch that he was dead, then that he was alive, then that he was dead and now we are assured that Jim still lives to fight another day. A billiard cue has a curious effect on Jim.

—The committee on the Bi-Chloride of Gold lecture have made their report which reads as follows: Total receipts, $72.65; total expenses, $48.50; balance on hand, $24.15. THE TELEGRAPH congratulates the Club on even its limited success, and only wishes that the amount cleared had been five times as great.

—The young men connected with the Henderson Minstrels are working hard to make the performance a success. Nightly rehearsals are being held and everything is running smoothly. The vocal music will be a pleasing feature of the performance and the solos of Messrs. Steel, Hammerstrom and McMahon together with the end songs of Messrs. Worthington, Stiles, Turner and Backus will surprise those accustomed to seeing only traveling minstrel companies. Prof. J. A. Rice will amuse and mystify the audience with his sleight of hand performance. Turner and Stiles will give their soft shoe dance; Reuland, Ramsey and Zoeller, of the Dixon Athletic Association, will give their clever performances on the horizontal bar. Rosenthal and Turner will give several excruciatingly funny impersonations. Dodge and Null in their artistic songs and dances will agreeably surprise their friends. The Dixon Parlor Quartette, Steel, Hammerstrom, Worthington and McMahon, and the Mandolin Club, Dement, Dodge, Hill and Rosbrook, in their specialties will add greatly to the general excellence of the entertainment.

The afterpiece, "Senator Suggs," as given by Messrs. Backus, Stiles, Worthington, Barth, Null and Clarke, will be a radical change from the conventional minstrel farce, and we feel sure that the audience will welcome the innovation. The music by the Henderson orchestra of fifteen will be as it always is first class We can guarantee that everything will be given as advertised.

School Election and Women Voters.

THE TELEGRAPH has had much to say concerning women voting at the coming school election, giving directions how to vote and urging the ladies to embrace the opportunity. The subject is discussed in all its bearings in the following which we give for the benefit of our lady readers, and we hope that they will read the same with interest and care that they may be prepared to exercise this great privilege:

"Woman may vote for trustees for school townships. This election takes place annually the second Saturday in April, when one trustee shall be elected for the term of three years. In counties adopting township organization, the trustee shall be elected at the same time as the town officers, namely, the first Tuesday in April.

For district directors, who are elected annually on the third Saturday in April, when one director shall be elected, who shall hold his office three years.

In all school districts having a population of 1,000 and not over 100,000 inhabitants, which are not governed by any special act in relation to free schools, there is elected, instead of directors, a Board of Education, which shall consist of a president and six members. The president shall be elected annually, and shall hold his office for the term of one year. The annual election of members of the Board of Education shall be on the third Saturday in April, when one third of the members shall be elected for the term of three years. This applies to the city of Dixon.

Any woman twenty-one years of age, resident of the State, and having the proper qualifications, is eligible to any office of School Director, member of Board of Education, Township Trustee, State or County Superintendent.

A woman must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the state one year, of the county ninety days, of the township or school district thirty days

Women must be citizens of the United States before they can vote. All women born in the United States are citizens. All women who were born in a foreign country and whose fathers had been naturalized before they became of age, are citizens. We are of the opinion that all wives of foreign birth whose husbands have been naturalized are citizens, because under the law the husband and wife become one. The same with a native born husband who marries a foreign born woman; but that a foreign born woman can apply for naturalization papers independent of the action of her husband However, these questions will have to be settled by the courts.

All single women of foreign birth whose fathers had not been naturalized before they reached their majority, must apply to the courts for the necessary naturalization papers.

Registration is not a necessary qualification to voting for these offices. But the act of 1891 relating to woman's voting provides that women shall be registered in the same manner as is provided for the registration of male voters. The act of June 17th, 1891, provides a system of registration, namely: "A board of registry shall meet in the precinct on Tuesday, three weeks preceding the first general city, village or town election," "or in case the previous registration shall be used, such board of registry shall meet on Tuesday two weeks preceding such election, when such registration shall be made."

You should see that your name is registered the first opportunity; but if a school election shall be held before such registration shall have been made, you are entitled to vote at such election.

The law makes no provision for the printing of ballots at the elections held for the purpose of electing trustees of schools or school directors, and members of the boards of education. If printed ballots are not furnished by the candidates, you must provide your own, either printed or written. The school law provides that "if other public officers are elected at the same election at which school officers are elected, the ballot offered by any woman entitled to vote under this act shall not contain the name of any person to be voted for at such election, except such officers of public schools, and such ballots shall all be deposited in a separate ballot box. This will occur at the election of township trustee, and it is the business of the board of elections to provide the separate ballot box.

—The Pope, who is aged eighty-two, wears spectacles only when reading; for ordinary use his eyesight remains good. He could see better at 70 than he could at 20, for when young he was very nearsighted The health of His Holiness is excellent, and it is kept so by his very simple mode of life. He is in bed usually for eight hours, from 10 to 6. His meals are all of a frugal character, his breakfast at times consisting solely of a glass of milk. For dinner, which is served at 3, he takes soup, two courses of meat with vegetables, and a dessert of fruit, with one glass of wine. Every day after dinner he goes out for a drive or a walk in the garden of the Vatican.

TREATY RATIFIED.

The Senate Acts on the Behring Sea Agreement.

NOT A SINGLE NEGATIVE VOTE CAST

A Few Unimportant Changes Made—The President Replies to Salisbury's Note Accepting His Proposals, and "the Republic Is Peace"—Tariff Debate in the House—Stewart Proposes to Bring the Silver Question Up in the Senate—An Estimate of the Vote There—Official Notes.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The treaty or convention providing for arbitration in the settlement of the differences between Great Britain and the United States over the jurisdiction of Behring sea was ratified by the senate yesterday afternoon by a unanimous vote. The secret session which resulted in the ratification was attended by seventy-two senators. There was some general discussion concerning the perfection of the treaty and Sherman announced that the propositions made by some senators at previous sessions that the arbitration proceedings should be conducted in English had met with a favorable response from Lord Salisbury. The treaty did not stipulate the language in which the proceedings shall be conducted. After Sherman made this statement the treaty was amended so that English should be the language used in the conduct of the proceedings.

Gave the Arbiters More Time.

There was also some discussion over article 11 of the treaty, which provides that "the decision of the tribunal shall, if possible, be made within three months from the close of the argument on both sides." Several senators thought the time allowed the arbitrators for decision should be longer, and as there was no objection to this the time was extended to four months. After a discussion over these points and some others of minor importance the treaty was ratified without further change (by an aye and nay vote) and resolutions informing the president of its ratification and removing the injunction of secrecy from the vote were adopted.

Senators Who Didn't Vote.

The vote was unanimous as to the senators present. Those absent were: Aldrich, Blodgett, Brice, Casey, Chilton, Colquitt, Davis, Faulkner, Harris, Hill, Irby, Jones of Arkansas, Jones of Nevada, Manderson, Morrill, Stanford—total, 16.

Amendment to the Treaty.

Yesterday Sir Julian Pauncefote sent to the president a draft of the amendment which Lord Salisbury would like to have made to the arbitration treaty in order to make it perfectly acceptable to his government. It is in effect the same as proposed in Salisbury's last dispatch, providing that, should the arbitrators decide the Canadian poachers had a right to the seal catch which some of them are now making they may proceed for damages against this government on account of having been kept out of their work during the present season by virtue of a renewal of the modus vivendi. The president is said to be willing to have the amendment adopted.

Harrison's Reply to Salisbury.

President Harrison was in a very happy mood at the meeting of the cabinet yesterday. He prepared a letter in reply to the last communication of the British premier which he read to the cabinet and which met with unanimous approval. Blaine was present at the meeting and expressed his admiration for the letter. It was transmitted to Sir Julian Pauncefote after the cabinet meeting and by him promptly put on the wires for the information of Lord Salisbury. The president expressed his willingness to accept an agreement for an adjustment of damages, according as the arbitrators may decide for or against the United States. He suggests to Lord Salisbury, however, that two closed seasons will make the price of sealskins very high during the next winter, and that this may be an element in determining the measure of damages on one side or the other.

TARIFF HAS THE FLOOR AGAIN.

Harter Speaks for Free Wool—Dolliver Attacks the Democracy.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The house yesterday "returned to its mutton," and tackled the tariff question once more. Harter made the principal Democratic speech, declaring himself for direct taxation and free trade as far as it could be made practicable—tariff for revenue only. He pointed a charge against the duty on steel rails by pointing to the high price of that product, when Dalzell of Pennsylvania inquired whether it was not a fact that during a large portion of last year steel rails were sold in New York at a lower price than in London. Harter replied that he believed the gentleman was mistaken, but if not, this only proved that there was no necessity for a protective tariff on steel rails, and it was robbery to permit a high tax to remain upon steel rails.

Tariff Intrenches High Prices.

Dalzell asked who was robbed by this tax. Harter said that temporarily, when competition had a home outlet, prices might go down under a fair system of tariff, but when combinations were formed prices were put up sky high to the American consumer, and were intrenched behind the Republican tariff.

McCreary of Kentucky favored the free wool bill. The tariff question was increasing in importance every year. He attacked the McKinley bill and would repeal every line of it if he could, but he yielded to the judgment of his colleagues, who believed it was better to move slowly and repeal certain portions of it first, without attacking it all at once.

The Democratic Idea Defined.

Deforest of Connecticut favored the bill, and spoke enthusiastically of the tariff policy adopted by the Democratic party. Raines of New York interrupted him and inquired what the Democratic party meant when it declared in 1860 in favor of aggressive free trade throughout the world. Deforest said that he was not aware that the Democratic party had so declared. That party insisted that these necessary duties should be laid on at such rates and with such equity as shall in the highest possible degree incidentally protect American industry and promote the general welfare. They believed in a tariff for revenue with incidental protection. This is and ever has been the doctrine of the Democratic party. Any other system would not promote the general welfare, but would only and fatally wound and injure the country. The duty on wool had the tendency to raise the price of wool to the man who produced it.

Dolliver Calls it Childish.

Dolliver of Iowa, in opposing the bill, said that the Mills bill only reduced the tariff from 47 to 42 per cent. If the argument by which cotton ties and binding twine are put on the free list is not absolutely worthless then the Democratic party showed most astounding treachery to the public welfare. The argument had been refuted many times in this house and the fact that, the house being almost unanimously Democratic, sent here, as they claim, as a protest against the McKinley act, with their leading candidate for the presidential nomination advising its repeal, they now attack the tariff law in a childish way is an example of a demagogue's proclamation.

Gatlings Compared to "Popguns."

The measures proposed by Democrats, even if enacted, would make no appreciable impression upon the long list of items in the McKinley bill. It was not probable that the United States senate, which stood until October, 1888, against the Gatling guns of that year would now be unable to stand against the popgun programme of 1892. [Applause.] The young statesman from Kansas [Bryan] said that the effect of the passage of the binding twine bill was to save $700,000 to the agricultural interests of the country. This could not be true. The Democratic system of competition, a system that juggled with rates, with the skill of magic itself, reduced the tariff only 5 per cent.

Says It's Amazing and Ludicrous.

By their own showing the Democratic party compromised with cannibals, made peace with thieves, compounded the felony of burglars, accepted the apology of pickpockets and acquiesced in the new slavery that put its fetters upon 65,000,000 of people—all for a paltry concession of 5 per cent. [Applause.] But amazing as was the process by which the Democratic hunger for free trade was satisfied in 1888, the present effort to silence the cravings of the same hunger with three broken doses of their favorite medicine is still more amazing and more obviously ludicrous. If the Democratic party exercised in politics the same instincts which distinguished them in private life they would now be on their feet apologizing for what they said last year. He felicitated them upon the progress they had made.

WHERE DID YOU GET THAT SPEECH?

Curious Coincidence in the House Obituary Oratory.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—There is blood on the face of the moon which shines on Representatives Tim Campbell and Belden, from New York. It all comes from Campbell's lack of a speechmaker's ability. It was brought to light yesterday morning when the Congressional Record, showing the speeches of the two men at the Spinola obsequies last Saturday, was read. Belden made his speech, but Campbell had contented himself with having his printed in The Record. A comparison shows them to be identical in thought and in many parts are word for word. The question was, who was the filcher?

Campbell Can't Make a Speech.

Belden says that he wrote his own speech as he delivered it, which is doubtless true. Campbell says: "I am not a speechmaker, and everybody knows it. I got fooled on that speech, and that is all there is to the business," and this is also doubtless correct. Belden wrote his speech and according to reports Felix McCloskey went to Belden and secured his speech to show to Widow Spinola for correction. Whether he copied it, or having read it retained unconsciously certain passages in his memory is not known. Suffice it to say the report has it that he gave Tim a speech almost a duplicate of Belden's.

FREE COINAGE IN THE SENATE.

An Estimate That Beats Stewart's Measure by a Tie Vote.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Interest in the silver question was transferred from the house to the senate yesterday by the announcement by Stewart that he would call up his free coinage bill on Monday next immediately after the morning business. The bill is now on the calendar and may be taken up at any time. But it has an adverse report of the finance committee against it and in order to get the bill before the senate for extended discussion a majority vote will be necessary, and there the test will come.

They Know How Hill Will Vote.

A canvass of the senate made by Vest and confirmed by Carlisle shows that ten Democratic senators will vote against the bill. They are Hill of New York, McPherson and Blodgett of New Jersey, Gibson and White of Louisiana, Carlisle of Kentucky, Palmer of Illinois, Vilas of Wisconsin, and Butler of South Carolina. Gorman is placed on the doubtful list, but from the fact that he voted for free coinage in 1891 it is presumed that he will do so again. Gorman's colleague in the last congress, Wilson, voted against free coinage, but his successor, Gibson, is placed in the free silver rank in the estimate made.

Morton Will Decide the Vote.

According to this estimate thirty-four Republicans and the ten Democrats named will vote against free silver. There are eighty-eight members of the senate, and if the estimate is correct the opposing vote will be even, thus throwing the deciding vote on Vice President Morton, who will vote against free silver, and thus kill the bill. But if Gorman should have changed his views either as to the soundness of the free silver doctrine or as to the policy of the Democracy relative thereto he would decide the matter.

Silver Men in the House at Work.

The free coinage men in the house who decided Monday to give up the fight after Speaker Crisp's decision that he would not vote in the committee on rules to bring in a cloture rule unless requested to do so by a majority of his party, changed their minds yesterday and began circulating a petition to the committee on rules asking for the cloture and have secured 96 names. Bland has taken no part in the circulation of the petition. He said last night that he had signed the petition, and from what he had heard of the number of signatures obtained he thought the outlook for the bill very favorable. The number of names wanted is 115.

Don't Get on Well Together.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—General Nettleton, assistant secretary of the interior, was before the senate committee yesterday explaining immigration matters. The line of questioning adopted by Chandler raised the general's ire, and there was some sharp talk which finally ended in the general withdrawing all he had said, and defying investigation of his acts. He then said that Immigration Superintendent Owen had made errors and blunders, and was incompetent; that he even wrote bad grammar in his communications, which had to be corrected before they went out of the office. He referred to a fictitious voucher also. Owens was next witness. He explained the voucher matter satisfactorily, said there was no personal bad feeling between Nettleton and himself, and that the grammatical errors were of no particular note.

ANARCHY AT PARIS.

Dynamite Explosion in a Prominent Banking Institution.

TWO MEN INJURED, TWO ARRESTS.

Police on Guard at the Scene—A Warning to a Rich Distiller Because He Is Rich—Landlords Give Threatened Persons Notice to Quit—The Gay City Almost in a Panic Over the Explosions and the Dynamitards Delighted—Juries Too Timid—London on the Qui Vive.

PARIS, March 30.—There was a dynamite explosion late yesterday afternoon in the building of the Credit of Lyonnaise, one of the largest banking institutions of the city. The extent of the damage has not yet been learned. It is said that two persons were injured. Police are in charge of the building and refuse to let anybody approach. Two arrests have been made.

Landlords Getting Anxious.

The landlords of buildings in which officials believed to be obnoxious to anarchists reside, are getting anxious about the safety of their property, and Judge Benoit has received a notice from his landlord to quit. It appears that the landlord had received notices from his other tenants that they would quit if Benoit did not.

The anarchists have sent a warning to a rich distiller named Premier, who lives in the manufacturing town of Romans, in the department of Drome. They threaten that his distillery will be blown up with dynamite on May Day. They have no grudge against him, but will destroy his building simply because he is the richest man in the place.

Says the Juries Are Timid.

M. Bulot, the public prosecutor, in answer to inquiries about the dynamite outrage at his residence says: "At the trial of the anarchists in August last I demanded the heads of Decamps and Dardare. The jury was timid and only imposed three years' imprisonment. Juries are so cowardly that I doubt if any would convict Ravacho if he were arrested. I am a radical, even a socialist, but reprobate anarchism. It is extremely probable that there is a grudge against me. Decamps, who is a violent fanatic and who is now in Boissy prison, is the real leader of his party. He is beloved by his wife, who may be secretly inciting his friends."

The Authorities Very Much Awake.

The Rue Clichy explosion has impressed upon the authorities the fact that anarchism, or at least the crimes arising from that doctrine, must be prevented if the fair fame of the city is not to suffer. The money loss growing out of the fear occasioned by the explosions is incalculable. With no certainty as to where the anarchists will strike their next blows visitors to Paris deem it the safer plan to leave the city, much to the disgust of hotel proprietors and shopkeepers. There is no denying the fact that the expressed intention of the anarchists to inaugurate a reign of terror has caused consternation.

A Royalist Paper Rejoices.

The royalist Gazette de France is not above trying to make political capital out of these attempts. It taunts the republicans with having banished God, liberty and honesty, with having set up statues to insurgents and celebrated anniversaries of rebellions. They are now, it says, reaping what they have sown. "What are these sardine box explosions? Very little—nothing but a small beginning. Republicans and you conservatives who think of improving the republic, wait a bit, you will see many other things. When you sow revolution, you must reap anarchy. The harvest is not yet quite ripe, but have patience; it will ripen quickly."

Pleased with the "Moral" Effect.

The Figaro publishes interviews with two leading Anarchists. They declared that the members of the party were acting singly, on their own responsibility. Both of them expressed themselves as delighted with the moral effect of the explosions, which, they said, would direct greater attention to their doctrines.

ON THE WATCH AT LONDON.

The Police Keeping Track of Anarchists and Their Explosives.

LONDON, March 30.—The police here have been ordered to what carefully the anarchists who arrive here from the continent. In the last three weeks 200 of them are said to have come over from Paris and Zurich. Their presence has been noticed by the police at the socialist meetings on Sunday nights, and the attention of Home Secretary Matthews was called to the fact.

Storing Their Dynamite for Future Use.

It is apprehended that many of the 360 dynamite cartridges stolen from the Sosy-Sous-Etielles quarry in February have been brought over and stored here for future use. Consequently the stringent regulations made after the attempt to blow up the parliamentary buildings have been revived, and the custom house officials have been ordered to enforce them without exception or modification.

Socialists Deny Any Knowledge.

Several Paris detectives have arrived here since Friday, it is said, with proof of the co-operation of the Paris and London anarchists. The socialists here deny that they know more than the general public about the perpetrators of the outrages and say that no refugees have arrived from the continent. They say they do not countenance the methods of the Paris dynamiters.

Mills Resigns from the House.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—It had been expected, and indeed announced, that before leaving the house Mills would make a speech on the tariff question, and some surprise was expressed that he handed in his resignation yesterday without expressing his sentiments. A close friend of the new senator said yesterday that Mills had talked over the matter with his friends, and it had been decided best for him to withhold his speech until the tariff debate opened in the senate.

A Mining Company in Politics.

CHICAGO, March 30.—A special to the Post from Denver says: "One of the boldest political schemes of a national character ever planned in Colorado has come to light. The King Solomon Mining company, of Creede, has sent agents to eastern cities to create a free silver sentiment before the conventions meet at Minneapolis and Chicago."

Another Home Rule Movement.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The British colonies in the West Indies have organized what is known as "The Civil Rights Defense Union." The union demands the rights of self-government in all the West India colonies.

HENRY GEORGE'S LEGACY.

It Threatens to Send Him on a Progress to Poverty.

NEW YORK, March 30.—About three years ago George Hutchins, of Ancora, N. J., died, leaving his entire fortune to Henry George for the dissemination of "Progress and Poverty," and others of George's books. The fortune, owing to a sudden depreciation of Northern Pacific securities, amounted to only about $6,000. George had never heard of Hutchins before that gentleman died, and when the widow declared that she was unjustly neglected by her husband, George wanted to withdraw his claim and leave all to her. But a lot of collateral country heirs sprang up and put in claims, and the case went to the courts.

He Was Generous to the Widow.

Vice Chancellor Bird decided that the will was void on the ground that George's books were opposed to public policy. The court of appeals decided in George's favor. George then instructed his attorney, John T. Woodhull, of Camden, not to oppose any claim made by Mrs. Hutchins, and in this way the widow obtained over $3,000. One thousand five hundred and thirty-six dollars went for legal expenses and lawyers' fees. Two hundred and seventy dollars went to George's co-executor, and then the tomb and funeral ate up a few hundred dollars. George transferred a frame house and a lot which were included in the estate to Mrs. Hutchins, and all that remained was $584.28, which was to go to Henry George.

Mrs. Hutchins Gets Some More.

Woodhull claimed that he had only $535 left and offered to send George $256, saying that he had promised the other executor to retain one-third of the amount to secure him (the executor) against any claim by the widow and wanted a $100 fee for the transaction. George began the civil suit which is now in the courts. Mrs. Hutchins put in a claim for $300 more and got it, and now all that is left is about $280, which George is suing Woodhull for. George says: "The whole affair has cost me a great deal of time and money, and I am out by it from beginning to end."

BEING A SHERIFF IN TEXAS.

Official Position Seems to Have Drawbacks in the Lone Star State.

CORSICANA, Tex., March 30.—Deputy Sheriff Absher called on Dick Baker, who lives near Drane, and presented for collection a note for $7.60. An altercation led to blows, Baker being the assailant. With two blows he fractured Absher's skull and broke his left hand, whereupon Absher drew a revolver and shot Baker twice, hitting him in the left shoulder and groin. The men then grappled, when Mrs. Baker ran out of the house, released her husband from the sheriff's hold and set two dogs on him. The dogs lacerated Absher terribly, biting large pieces of flesh from both hips and the left leg. His condition was such that after the wounds had been cauterized and dressed he became delirious. It is feared that hydrophobia will result. Baker is reported dying.

THE KEELEY TOBACCO CURE.

An Omaha Man Drops Dead After Taking a Course Thereof.

OMAHA, March 30.—William Zell, a well-known carpenter, two weeks ago decided to quit chewing tobacco, and with that end in view began taking the Keeley tobacco cure. He never drank or smoked, but chewed only. He was a healthy man, and no one thought that such treatment would injure him.

Coroner Will Investigate.

He quit work an hour earlier last night and went home, dropping dead just as he entered the door. The physicians who were summoned pronounced his death due to the medicine he was taking. Upon being notified the coroner ordered a post-mortem, and intends to thoroughly investigate the treatment and its effect.

Congressional Synopsis.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—After Stewart had given notice of his intention to call up the silver question in the senate on Monday next a resolution by Wolcott for the removal of the remnant of the Ute Indians from Colorado, where their present reservation is in the track of a prosperous mining boom, was adopted, and then in executive session the Behring sea arbitration treaty was ratified.

The silver bill being shelved the house proceeded with the consideration of the free wool bill, the entire day being devoted to debate. The following gentlemen spoke in favor of the bill: Harter, Bretz of Indiana, McCreary, Deforest of Connecticut. Dolliver of Iowa was the only speaker against the measure.

Riotous Czechs at Prague.

VIENNA, March 30.—There was rioting in Prague Monday night by crowds which had assembled contrary to government orders to celebrate the birth of John Comenius. In the fight which ensued with the police many were trampled by horses and slashed with swords. One of the struggles took place in the Bethleham platz, the spot made historic by the martyrdom of Huss, but the bloodiest fight was when the crowds started for the Jewish quarter. The gens d'armes met the mob with their swords and charged upon them regardless of who they trampled upon. Many were wounded, but no one killed so far as known.

Springer Cannot Close the Debate.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Representative Springer, who has been confined to his home for some weeks past on account of sickness, has written to McMillin stating that his physician tells him that it would be at the risk of his life to make a speech at any time in the near future, and therefore giving up the idea of closing the debate on the free wool bill. He urges that this and the other bills be passed as soon as possible and sent to the senate. He hopes to be able to be present in the house on Monday, and move the passage of the free wool bill.

Monuments to Ericsson and Owen.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The committee on the library yesterday reported to the senate with favorable recommendation bills appropriating $50,000 for a monument to John Ericsson, the builder of the Monitor, and $20,000 for a statue of Robert Dale Owen, of Indiana, who introduced the bill in congress for the establishment of the Smithsonian institution, the statue of Owen to be located in the Smithsonian grounds and that of Ericsson at some point in Washington.

A German Lunatic's Freak.

BERLIN, March 30.—A lunatic named Harijen, who had escaped from an asylum in Bremen, crept into his wife's house yesterday, cut the woman's throat, threw the body on the bed, set fire to the bed clothing and escaped.

Fail to do their Duty

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbechter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from Nervous Prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried oil other remedies, declares that after three week's use of the Nervine for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. FAITH ABANDONED FOR FONDNESS.

An Illinois Girl to Become a Jadaist in Order to Marry an Israelite—A Communicant of the Episcopal Church, She Will Deny Her Savior Rather Than Stifle Her Love—Rabbi Moses' Views of Proselytism and Advice to the Young Man.

CHICAGO, March 30.—In a few weeks a new member will be taken in by the Kehilath Anshe Maariv, which means "Congregation of Men of the West," the oldest Jewish congregation this side of New York. The new member, who will be received in the synagogue at the corner of Indiana avenue and Thirty-third street, is the daughter of a well-known man in Jacksonville, Ills. Her name is Anna L. Gregory, and until a short time ago she was a devout Episcopalian. She becomes a Jewess, so far as an American girl can become a Jewess by joining a congregation, because she is going to marry Meier E. Weil, who is a young man of Jacksonville.

She Will Have to Deny the Savior.

She will renounce her family traditions and the religion of her people in order to be a better companion through life for her husband who is to be. One of the questions she will be asked is: "Do you believe that Jesus Christ died to save mankind?" and the reply must be "no," or Anna will have to give up Meier. This Mr. Weil learned in an interview with Rabbi Moses. She will also have to overcome the traditional feeling of Christians against Jews because, the rabbi said, otherwise she could not live in harmony with her husband.

Advice to the Young Man.

Rabbi Moses further told Mr. Weil: "You should send your sweetheart to Chicago, where she should live with respectable Jewish people and learn whether she likes their manner of thought and their religion. * * * Hitherto indifference on your part, while not desirable, was pardonable. Henceforth it is not pardonable, for if you are not as ardent in your old faith as your sweetheart will become in her new faith you will not live altogether happy."

The Young Woman Doesn't Flinch.

The young man went away and yesterday a dispatch came from Jacksonville to say that Miss Anna L. Gregory had renounced her Christian faith, left the Episcopal church, in which she had been a communicant, and created a social sensation by going to Chicago to learn Judaism all because of her love for Meier Weil. Mr. Weil is a prominent and well connected merchant of the town and Miss Gregory is of a family that belongs to fine society in Jacksonville.

Not Favorable to Proselytism.

Rabbi Moses said last night: "I am not much in favor of making proselytes indiscriminately. Proselytism is not in my line. If people like America it is not necessary that they should come here. If they profit by our example and work at home on our lines we are as well satisfied. Just so in our church. It would not be best that all who are impressed with our doctrines should join our congregations.

They Were Bent on Matrimony.

"In the case of Mr. Weil he and Miss Gregory seemed bent on their purpose. I could not marry them while she was a Christian. I did such a thing once when I was a young man and ambitious, but it is against my principles now. So I agreed to take Miss Gregory into fellowship."

Advised Them to Marry.

When Weil went to the rabbi and told his story the rabbi said: "Marry her anyhow; you can go to any justice of the peace and he will marry you in a twinkling; or you can go to Rabbi Hirsch at Sinai temple. He has married Jewish young men to Christian young women before now." But Weil did not believe in that sort of thing and said that Miss Gregory wished to become of the same faith as her sweetheart.

Prohibition in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—The house Republicans, as predicted, will not reconsider the vote by which the Gatch bill failed to pass. Yesterday afternoon the committee appointed by the Republican house caucus Monday evening made public an address to the anti prohibition Republicans in answer to the resolutions adopted by their convention. The address says that it is impracticable to act on the Gatch bill again, and that the Republicans in the house could not have done otherwise than act as they did under the platform of their party last election.

Locked the Children in the House.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 30.—Near Nashville, twenty miles from here, Monday afternoon, Charles Swearing was working on his farm when his wife locked their little boy and girl, aged 4 and 5 years, in the house, going to a neighbor's farm. A little later the house took fire from some unknown cause, and before aid arrived was destroyed with all its contents. The two children were roasted alive.

Will Investigate That Railway Slavery.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., March 30.—Charges of cruelty and oppression have been made from time to time against the contractors by men who have escaped from their camps in the Adirondacks where Dr. Seward Webb is building his new railroad. Yesterday the state board of arbitration began an investigation. The testimony so far corroborates the stories of the men.

Leaves the Union Pacific.

OMAHA, March 30.—C. S. Mellen, who has been traffic manager of the Union Pacific railway for a number of years, has tendered his resignation, to take effect on April 1, on which day he will assume the duties of general manager of the New York and New England railroad.

Confirmed an Indiana Man.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The senate in executive session yesterday confirmed the nomination of John H. Baker, of Indiana, to be United States district judge for Indiana, in place of Judge Woods, against whose confirmation such a bitter fight was made by Democratic senators.

His Jury Was Very Merciful.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 30.—Nathan Arbuckle, who assaulted the 9-year-old daughter of Henry Schofield ten days ago, and who, after escaping, was arrested Friday last, pleaded guilty Tuesday and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

GEN. DUSTIN REPORTED DYING.

A Prominent Illinoisan Deathly Sick at Carthage, Mo.

CARTHAGE, Mo., March 30.—General Daniel Dustin, of Sycamore, Ills., came to Carthage one week ago to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Myers. He is now very ill, and all hopes of his recovery have been abandoned. During the campaign of 1888 he made speeches in behalf of Harrison. He was taken ill while so engaged, and ever since his health has not been robust. Two years ago he was appointed assistant treasurer of the United States at Chicago. For some months he had been scarcely able to attend to his duties, and being advised by his physicians came here to recuperate. The trip was pleasant, but next day after his arrival he began to fail.

The Agricultural Interest.

When the farmers are prosperous, all the people prosper. They are the great middle class, the conservators of the nation. As long as a land is held by the cultivators a nation flourishes. When it gets into the hands of capitalists, and the farmer becomes a mere renter, then the trouble begins. This is a truth as old as the world. The farmer does right, therefore, when he speaks of his high destiny. The time is coming when farmers will control the politics of the country. They should, therefore, take care of their health as individuals. They are liable as a class, to certain diseases like pneumonia, which are often neglected from the difficulty of obtaining medical attendance in time. If the farmer will but keep Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure on hand and take it whenever he is exposed to cold he will never be troubled with these complaints. For sale by all druggists.

What are Krause's Headache Capsules?

To be brief will tell you they are unlike anything prepared in America. A few years since an acquaintance who for years hed beena headache sufferer, until his system had beennealy ruined, was advise to go to the Carlsbad Spring, Germany, to try the effects of water. While the waters were apparently a benefit, still they were not a cure. While at the Springs he heard a great deal about the court physician, Dr. Krause, who afterwards became famous the world over owing to the Mackenzie controversy during and after the last illness of the Emperor, William.

He consulted Dr. Karuse in regard to his headaches, and to quote the dector's words ,,Here is a prescription which if taken as I direct, will prevent or stop any kind of headache, no matter what the cause. You will find the frequency of the attack will diminish and by taking the capsules when you feel the approach of a headache you will never have another."

The patient was practically cured and with his permission I prepared, and sell what I have seen fit to call Karuse's Headache Capsules to Headache victims.

Fell Dead,

These words are very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthmatic Breathing, Weak and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder or Arm, Fluttering of Heart or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at Tillson & Hayden's, who also sell the New Heart Cure. 1

—Mrs. George Reith has gone to Chicago for a week's visit with her sister.

—Conductor Bigelow will continue to punch tickets on the Northwestern just as we suggested he would.

—The tickets for the minstrels will be checked on the chart Saturday evening instead of morning as recently published.

—S. G. Austin & Co. tells what they "think" and "know" in to-days's ad. Chiverton & Heckman also have something to say.

—General Daniel Dustin is reported as dying. He went into the army from Sycamore, having joined the 8th Illinois cavalry at the breaking out of the war. In July, 1862, he was appointed colonel of the 105th Ill. Infantry, which was mustered into service here at Dixon in September, 1862. He held several prominent offices in DeKalb county and is now Assistant United States Treasurer at Chicago.

—A dispatch from Jackson, Michigan, published this morning in the Chicago News, states that the Fargo shoe factory has decided to remain there, and has renewed contracts with the prison authorities with that object in view. The shoe factory at the prison employed about one hundred and fifty convicts. The dispatch states that the machinery now here at Dixon will be shipped back to Jackson. All of which is probably one of those canards that we so frequently see in the papers of the "Windy City."

—The executive board of the Women's World's Fair Club met yesterday and appointed the following vice-presidents for the county: Mrs. Ellwood Hughes, Palmyra; Mrs. John McKinstry, Nelson; Mrs. John Wadsworth, Harmon; Mrs. Thos. Phillips, Hamilton; Miss Agnes Raymond, South Dixon; Mrs. Chas. Welty, Marion; Miss Emma Dysart, Nachusa; Mrs. J. B. Hussey, China; Miss Lizzie Little, Amboy; Mrs. Chas. Griffith, Ashton; Miss Elizabeth Aschenbrenner, Bradford; Miss Anna Woodbridge, Lee Center; Mrs. Sarah Piper, Reynolds; Mrs. H. B. Cobb, Viola; Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw, Brooklyn; Mrs. Geo. Carey, Alto; Mrs. Thos. Wells, Willow Creek; Mrs. W. I. Guffin, Wyoming. Vice-presidents will be chosen for East Grove, Sublette and May at the next meeting which will be held April 12.

—The question is asked at the postoffice why an ordinary ten cent stamp affixed to a letter, in addition to the regular postage, will not secure special delivery the same as the required stamp used in such cases. Special delivery letters dispatched from the postoffice are tied up with the ordinary mail, but on the mail cars these letters are placed by themselves and tied on top of packages for the different postoffices so as to receive immediate attention at the place of destination. The railway mail clerks handle mail very quickly, and could not easily distinguish a special delivery letter from the ordinary if it did not have something about it different from the others. The special delivery stamp is made of a peculiar design on account of this. At postoffices the distributing clerks are constantly on the alert watching for the long blue stamps, and when found, they are immediately entered upon the messenger's book, the same as a telegram and delivered ahead of the carriers.

The Wanted Witness.

Our former fellow citizen, Fred A. Soule is gaining fame, or notoriety, or something of that sort, more rapidly than he did when a citizen of Dixon, practicing law, writing pamphlets, or putting on style. The Chicago Tribune this morning prints his profile and publishes the following dispatch Those who know Soule will not consider his nervous condition in the least remarkable.

DENVER, Colo., March 29.—Frederick Soule has made his appearance in Denver. At 8 o'clock he walked into the Albany Hotel with his wife and registered. He demanded one of the best rooms in the house, got it, and went up stairs as if in a hurry. At 10:30 he came rushing up to the clerk's desk and asked what time the Santa Fe train went south. Though the train did not go till 12:30 he ordered his satchel brought at once. There was some delay, and he asked the clerk half a dozen times if that satchel was never going to come, walked up and down nervously, and appeared extremely agitated. The satchel and his wife came down the elevator to-gether and he grabbed both. They vanished out of the door and have not been seen since. The reason he gave for leaving so suddenly was that he expected to meet a person who was not there.

From Compton.

The April number of The Forum will contain a discussion of the Hill and anti-Hill issues in New York (apropos of the two Democratic State Conventions to select delegates to the National Convention), by Mr. Frederick R. Coudert of the New York bar, who is the leader of the Democratic opposition to Senator Hill. Bearing upon the same subject will be an article by Mr. Mathew Hale, of Albany, the well-known constitutional authority on the process whereby the present Senate of New York was changed from Republican to Democratic. Mr. Hale goes into details and does not hesitate to place the responsibility of this act where he thinks it belongs—on Gov. Hill.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union wants to put up a building in the World's Fair Exposition grounds, in which to exhibit the entire system of its work and to conduct a cafe for the sale of temperance drinks. Seven of the World's Fair buildings are now so far advanced that they are fast assuming the appearance of finished structures. The rough carpentry work on them is practically done and the ornamental and finishing work is in progress. These buildings are the Woman's, Horticulture, Transportation, Mines, Administration, Forestry, and Fisheries. Five more—the Government, Fine Arts, Agriculture, Dairy and Illinois State—are erected to the roof lines. The Electricity, Manufactures and Machinery buildings are being advanced rapidly.

An exchange truthfully remarks: If a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it; if a merchant makes a mistake he crawls out of it; if an editor makes a mistake he put it upon a large sheet of paper for the world to look at, and in every community there are cranks, who think they are models of wisdom because they occasionally discover them and for a week their jaws are wagging about their greatness for astute wisdom.

—DO YOU—

Believe in Free Trade?

If you do, call at No. 5 First street, and be convinced of your error. I have just received from the well-known

JAMESTOWN WORSTED MILLS

(New York) a large invoice of Dress Goods.

I have handled these goods direct from the mills for years, but never bought them as low as I did this spring and I propose to sell them correspondingly low. I have a nice line of Outing Flannels, Satteens, Ginghams, Prints, Hoisery, Gloves, Corsets and Notions, all at the Lowest Cash Prices.

Get my prices on Carpet Warp before you buy.
